Caltrans Plans 'Moving Lane Closure' Tonight on Lincoln Boulevard (State Route 1) in Marina del Rey Area of Los Angeles

Operation is Scheduled from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. Tonight

LOS ANGELES — The California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) announced that temporary lane closures are scheduled tonight on Lincoln Boulevard (State Route 1) in the vicinity of Marina del Rey.

A contractor will install pavement markers in the median on the northbound and southbound Lincoln Boulevard roadway from Jefferson Boulevard to Fiji Way. While the work is done, a "moving" traffic lane closure will shut only the left lane.

The contractor will begin pavement marker installation northbound from Jefferson Boulevard to Fiji Way, using a moving lane closure, at 8 p.m. tonight. While the left lane will be closed, the center lane and right lane will remain open for the public at all times.

Next, the operation will switch over to the southbound roadway of Lincoln Boulevard at Fiji Way and will move southward, again using a moving closure that will close only the left lane.

The contractor anticipates the duration of entire night operation to be two hours -- from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Caltrans reminds drivers to "Be Work Zone Alert" and "Slow for the Cone Zone."
